BIOGRAPHY

Frédéric Teulon is the Executive Head of Research and Dean of the Faculty at IPAG Business School. He holds an “aggregation” of Economics and Social Science. He is a former student of the ENS Paris-Saclay (Ecole Normale Supérieure), of IEP Paris (Institut d’Etudes Politiques) and of Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne University. He founded in 2008 the IPAG Lab (a research laboratory in economics and management). He co-founded three international conferences: IRMBAM (International Research Meeting in Business & Management), ISEFI (International Symposium on Environment & Energy Finance Issues), PFMC (Paris Financial Management Conference). He has published over 40 books and over 40 peer-reviewed journal articles on macroeconomics, finance, energy economics, and management (in journals such as Revue Economique, Management International, Economic Modelling, Journal of Energy & Development, International Economics, JIFMIM, Technological Forecasting & Social Change...). He has been a guest editor of special issues (Management & Avenir, Maghreb/Machrek, Small Business Economics).
